TREETEONS No. 12.

Hongkong, January 21st, 1889. YESTERDAY's mail brought out the report of an important meeting of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce to consider the position of the Lancashire cotton industry as affected living competition of the Indian mills. More than twelve months ago a Committee was appointed to report on the subject, and the inquiry has been very close and searching. The majority of the Committee ascribed the success of Indian competition report gives the chief cause as the fall in exchange which has taken place since 1876 At the general meeting of the Chamber held large to see the injurious effect which mone- Mercury. metallism is exercising on British manufacwhich has attended the cotton spinning ipwhile the advantages resulting from geographical position, as represented by cost of transit, have been diminishing. Lancashire has. moreover, many advantages over Bombay to counterbalance the advantages the latter possesses in its geographical position. The have also been mentioned, but this is a factor which, on a close examination, will be found to have very little force. In India the operatives work eighty-one hours per week, whereas in England they work only kong. fifty-six. But in England the whole fiftysix hours are fully occupied with work, whereleads them. Presumably there is some limit. to this, but it is a fact, we believe, that at a Bombay mill that a very appreciable proportion of the hands supposed to be at work while they are at work is also lower than that will yield the best and most economical nite decision, but opinion in England now-adays seems to incline to nine. Whether rect point may be eight or it may be tenit will be found by practical experience that when the limit is passed, labour becomes less effective and therefore more ex-May of last year in support of this proposition. Certain yarns for export to China yarus between December and January, the fall in exchange, which did not affect Bombay spinnings, resulted in forcing down Manchester prices to the exent stated. This effect of a falling exchange in favouring Indian manufacturers at the expense of Lancashire has been repeatedly pointed out COMPLETE, WITH APPENDIX, PLANS, &c., &c., in these columns, and to us seems incontestable. The import of Indian yarn into China and Japan has increased -as shown by Messrs. JAMASJER and EDULJRE's circular. which we reprinted a few days ago-from 17,598 bales in 1876 to 277,610 bales in 1888. An examination will show, we think, been coincident with the greatest disturbance in exchange. Taking the last four years we find that in 1885 the increase was in round numbers 28,000 bales, in 1886. 47,000 bales, in 1887 42,000 bales, and in 1888 10,000 bales. It was in 1886 that the dollar for the first time fell below 3s., the lowest point fouched the previous year having been 3s. 31d. Since then exchange, though it has not risen, bas remained steadier, especially during the last year, and the increase in the import of Indian yarns has been proportionately diminished, while the Board of Trade returns show that during the eleven months to 30th November, 1888, there was an increase of 10,000,000 lbs. in the export of yarn from England to China and Japan. A succasiful cotton spinning industry would doubtless have grown up in Bombay independently of questions of exchange, but it is to the fall in exchange having acted on it like a bounty that the phenemenal growth of the trade with China and Japan must be

The Peninsular is one of the latest additions to the Company's fleet, the sister ship Oriental being the other, and is fitted all the improvements and conveniences that modem science and ingenuity could invent. would be difficult indeed to think of anything that is wanting on board the Peninsular to make a sea journey comfortable, and the placing of such a vessel on this line cannot fail to add to the reputation and the revenue of the P. & O. Company. Some details as to the build the Peninsular have already appeared these columns. In length she is 410 feet, and in breadth 48 feet, the great width in beam being designed to give her steadiness in motion by preventing rolling, and her gross tonnage is 5,000 tons. She has accommodation for 170 first-class passengers and 30-second ply of life bouts. Above the main deck is a hurricane dock running about one-third of the length saloon, above which is a handsome stained glass dome. On the left of the entrance is a wellfurnished and comfortable looking saloon, othermeats and settees are fitted with reversible seats temperature. Mr. G. Piener, the headmaster of the school, read the following report :- The year has been a very satisfactory one in many respects. The health of the boarders has been good with the exception of a few mild cases of measles and chicken-pox in the spring, although many dayscholars have often been detained at their homes by fever. Every attention has been given to means to secure good health. The boarders have had regular drills, frequent walks, and summer sea-bathing and swimming; unfortunately our distance from suitable bathing places and cost of transport have prevented the boys, especially the small boys, from having so much sea-bathing as is desirable. Cricket, tennis, and foot-ball matches have also been arranged. number on the school-roll has risen to 125, being an increase of 25. This is chiefly due to the greater number of girls that come to school daily. Arrangements have now been made by which girls from the Coast Ports can be cheaply and comfortably lodged in the immediate neighbourhood, under the care of the Rev. J. B. Ost and Mrs. Ost, of the Church Missionary Society, and attend here as day scholars. The fees collected amounted to $5,850.42, being little more than last year; the increase would have been greater but that more is being done in charity. The number of free boarders has been increased by 3. For the first time school-books have been sold, and have realized $51.92. average attendance during the 247 days on which school was taught has risen from 63.34 to 63.83. H.M.'s Inspector examined 50 scholars at Christmas, of whom 90 per cont. passed, being 100 per cent. in Reading, Writing, Geography and History, 94 in Arithmetic, 92 in Dictation, 90 in English Composition, and 69 per cent, in Parsing and Analysis (after a new method). We were obliged to be satisfied with a small sum for the purpose of making certain changes in the school so as to enable us to take in more boarders. We would require a much larger sum if we were to erect a school such as we want at once, but as Mr. Pierov has suggested. the thing might be done gradually. There is a piece of ground at the end of this building on which we could commence by building one large school-room with two or three small ones perhaps on the same floor and build them strong enough to bear an upper storey when we get the money to go on with it. It seems to me this plan might be carried out if some friends came forward with a few not very large subscriptions. You. Sir. were kind enough to give $25 last year and $25 again this year, and I propose that the two be put together to commence the fund with 250 for building a room such as I have indicated, in the hope that in future years we may be able to add to it until we get a building worthy of the institution. One meal a day is allowed her, and once a fortnight a compulsory fast of over sixty hours is imposed upon her. She is unceasingly reviled and abused, and all because her nominal husband dies in the usual course of nature. Last, but not least, the virgin widow is denied for ever the natural happiness of married love. I estimate that there is at this moment about five millions of high caste Hindoo widows undergoing these inhuman terments and three-fourths of whom are virgin widows under 10 years of age. I can fearlessly maintain that to them the Suttee would be far proferable to the death-in-life they at present andergo. Legislation has failed to bring about the emancipation of widows, and the efforts of missionuries and Zenana teachers, whilst deserving of all praise, have so far been unable to. remedy this evil. The work must smanats from a high caste woman, and one who can combat with the orthodox Brahmius on the Vedic writings. Pundita Rama Bei, in my opinion, is the person who will give to the down-trodden women of India the sweet liberty which they have been deprived of during the last twelve centuries. She is only a widowed woman fighting singly against millions. and yet in herself she appears to be a great host The time is not far distant when success will meet her on all sides. The course Pundita Rama Bai purposes taking is most judicious, and it is based on a solid and legitimate foundation. Reformers in the Hindoo schools of the clogy have met this great quostion halfway. The Pundita's plans will undoubtedly meet the approval of all unprejudiced minds. She purposes establishing a school solely for high custo Hindon-widows. The text books of the school have all been carefully prepared by her, and the printing of same will be and backs for use according to the state of the to help them to continue their studies. Shanghai, 11th January, 1889. DEAR DR. CHALMERS. - I am led to ask your interest and influence in behalf of the faminestricken districts in North China. During the past year the Missionaries in Shantung and elsewhere have earnestly written me to help thom in alleviating the prevailing distress. From the time that we heard of the bursting of the Yellow River, this constant appeal has been made, and as the months went on the sufferings of the people seemed to increase and extend in all directions. The Government and private charity among the Chinese have done much in the province of Honan, and it appears unnocessary to send help there, however ill-off many of the people may be. It is otherwise in Shantung. owing at once to drought and excessive rain, a vast region of the country is, in a hopeless condition for a long time to some. It is the same in the heighbourhood of Newchwang, and new fields are sending forth the same bitter cry. Millions are involved in the calamity; of which full acpers, the North China Daily News and Herald. The native authorities here are asking the foreigners here to assist them in their distress, and happily arrangements are being made to call forth the sympathy and help of friends in the Home Lands. This, however, is only in one direction of the wide-spread disaster, and the Southern ports as well as England and America are being appealed to for help. As representing Shantung in particular, and assisting other places as much as possible. I make free to ask you to do what you can for the relief work.

On a former occasion, when the famine was raging in Shansi, the Government in Hongkong was written to, and the Committee here, or which I had the horour of being Secretary, had the satisfaction of receiving the munificent contribution of $5,000. So it was in Singapore. It seems that the present calamity in North China be a great favour if assistance could be obtained

Covers containing bank notes, jewellery. &c., should not be posted. To avoid robbery senders of letters are requested to cancel their stamps by writing the word 'stamped' across

When Correspondence has been mis-sent or lelaved (both of which are liable to happen occasionally) all that the addresses need do is to note on the cover. Sent to ---- or Received at 7 p.m., or as the case may be, and forward it, without any other writing whatever, to the Postmaster-General. This should be acted on the first time cause of complaint occurs; it is a mistake to let such matters pass for fear of giving trouble, a course which generally gives more trouble in the and
